Diver Dan

Diver Dan the scuba man has found 12 of Captain Red Beard's wrecked treasure ships. He can tame the most dangerous sea creatures. He skates on skates, surfs on stingrays and cuts up wrecks with sawfish. The only critter he has problems with is the great white shark who took a big bite out of Dan's favorite flippers.

DIVE INTO DANGER!

Dive into deep-sea action with the Divers. This group of daring underwater explorers brave the dangers of the deep, sawfish, octopuses, stingrays and even angry sharks. They search for sunken treasure, submerge in subs and sneer at sharks from the safety of their shark cage. Explore the underwater lab on pages 8-9.

Turn the crank to raise and lower the net and the shark cage!

#6558 SHARK CAGE COVE

It's the shark cage for you if you want to dive where the sharks live. Please keep your hands and feet inside the shark cage or they may end up inside a shark.

Feature Story

Daredevil Divers of the Deep

GET SET FOR SOME DANGEROUS DEEP-SEA ADVENTURES AS YOU EXPLORE THE OCEAN WITH SCUBA SANDY AND ME. WE'LL SCUFFLE WITH SHARKS, RIDE SOME RAYS, AND AVOID OCTOPUSES. CLIMB INTO THE SHARK CAGE AND LET'S GO. SANDY'S A MARINE BIOLOGIST, AND SHE CAN TELL YOU ALL ABOUT SHARKS.

SHARKS ARE DANGEROUS, unpredictable and will eat almost anything that moves. Look out! It's heading this way. Keep your arms and legs inside the shark cage. BAM! That was one angry shark. It rammed the cage so hard that it bent the steel bars!

That was a close one! Looks like the coast is clear now,

Dan. Go ahead and swim out of the cage. Just be careful where you step. Stingrays like to hide under the sand. If you step on one, it can sting you with its tail. Here come some now. Watch me, Dan! I'm going to ride that big ray. I'll just climb on its back and hold onto its wings. Yeehaa!

Okay, everyone. We're down about 60 feet now, and there are lots of canyons, ledges and caves. Stay away from the caves, right Dan?

HEY SANDY,
THAT GREAT WHITE
SHARK IS BACK!
LAST ONE TO THE SURFACE IS SHARK BAIT!

YIPES!

YEEHAA!

Factoid: To scuba dive in the United States you must be 12 years old and take a required diving course. Expert instructors can teach you to dive in less than six weeks.

THAT'S WHERE OCTOPUSES LIVE.

That's right, Sandy. Some octopuses can change the color of their skin to white, brown, red, and green and hide themselves among the same color coral and rocks. Most octopuses are small, but some get as big as 10 feet and 70 pounds—big enough to attack a shark. See that bite mark on my hand? I got it from an octopus who wasn't too happy with me snooping around. I tried to shoo him away, but I only had two arms and it had eight!

Once scuba divers dive past 130 feet, they can run into problems. The increased water pressure sends hydrogen gas bubbles from a diver's air tank into the diver's bloodstream.

To survive the water pressure, divers explore the really deep sea in mini subs called submersibles, like the #6442 Sting Ray Explorer. The deepest most submersibles go is 36,000 feet. At those depths, the dark water is about 37 degrees and the water pressure on the sub is similar to the weight of a skyscraper on top of you.

MOST MINI-SUBS ARE ABOUT 25 FEET LONG AND 7 FEET WIDE, so they're not much bigger than a car. Only 2 inches of titanium metal protect divers from the ocean's crushing water pressure. The sub's round portholes are made of extra thick plastic materials, but as mini-subs dive deeper, the water pressure flattens the round windows.

Their mechanical arms collect rocks, water samples and buried treasure from the bottom of the sea. Mini-subs carry enough air for 3 days, but they stay underwater for less than a day which is long enough for even the most daring diver.

"Deep Reef Refuge is Really the Best!"

The sub is awesome and the undersea lab is the best! "The lab's bubbles are way cool! They open so the divers can swim out of them!" The x-ray machine was excellent for examining sea creatures. Adam loved the dolphin, stingray and especially the great white shark! Once he built the Deep Reef Refuge, Adam trained his sea creatures to help the divers find sunken treasure — but they had to move quickly because Captain Red Beard wanted the treasure too!

Sharks will eat almost anything that swims or gets thrown off a boat. Gas cans, car parts, deer antlers, hats and even other sharks have been found in their stomachs. The great white LEGO shark has been really hungry lately and just ate some of the weirdest things for lunch. Look for the great white LEGO sharks chomping on things hidden throughout the magazine. In the spaces on the left, write down what's for lunch (what's in the shark's mouth) and the page you find it on.

The first 10 randomly selected entries with the correct answers will win a LEGO set of their choice (up to $100 value).
